THE BEHRING SEA AWARD.

At last we know the result of the tribunal sitting at Paris on the Behring question. The position taken Britain on all points has been upheld and judgment pronounced against the claims of the United States, though with certain provisions that may possibly mitigate against the interest of Canadian sealers to the benefit of the American.

The points settled by the arbitration are: 1st, That Russia did not assert and exercise exclusive jurisdiction in Behring sea and in the seal fisheries therein prior to the cession of Alaska to the United States; 2nd, That consequently Great Britain never conceded any such rights to Russia; 3rd, that Behring sea was not included in the phrase "Pacific ocean" as used in the treaty of 1825 between Great Britain and Russia; 4th, that consequently no exclusive rights of jurisdiction over Behring sea and over the seal fisheries therein passed to the United States with Alaska under the treaty in 1867.

This means that Behring sea is not an American sea, nor are the seals American property, and that Canadian vessels were within their rights when they hunted seals anywhere in Behring sea beyond the established marine league from shore. It also means that that the United States will now have to pay damages to Canadian sealers illegally seized. For the mutual protection of seal life, a close season has been established in each year from May 1st to July 1st, and a protective zone of sixty miles agreed upon, around the Pribyloff Islands, within which it shall not be lawful for the vessels of either nation to seal at any time. The use of nets, firearms and explosives, is also by mutual consent forbidden. What the exact issue of these regulations will be, and whether they will work out against our best interests or not, it is too early in the day to say. That a peaceful solution has been arrived at, of what was one time a grave international dispute, must be pleasing to everyone who desires to see the friendly relations between Great Britain and the United States maintained. Certain it is, from all accounts to hand, the arbitration is over—and in the points decided by that arbitration, England has not come off second but first best.

LOOK AFTER YOUR BARLEY.

This year the farmers round Edmonton have a market for their Barley—and it behooves them to watch it and look after it with better attention than they have done in former years. This market is British Columbia, and Calgary. Advice received from the Pacific coast state that the Brewers there will take all we can raise. British Columbia is shipping in all it can get from Manitoba and points East along the line. Heretofore there has been no demand for barley for brewing purposes, and the farmers have neglected it, leaving it to lay out, and not caring for it in the same way they have their wheat and oats. This year the crop of barley is larger and better than last year's crop, and if properly looked after should yield the producer a good round margin of profit.

Particular attention should be paid to its color, and to preserve it from the rain, as while its color does not effect it so much for ordinary uses, it is everything in brewing. In Calgary there is a limited demand for good barley, also for brewing purposes, and between there and Edmonton, as well as between Edmonton and the Pacific Coast it is expected the C. P. R. will give reduced rates.

THE EDMONTON EXHIBIT.

For the first time in our history, Northern Alberta is to be represented at the Eastern Fair, by a car of exhibits made up exclusively of products grown and raised in the district around Edmonton, and the farmers of this section have now if they never had before, an opportunity of showing the people of Ontario and Quebec just what they can do.

Last year it will be remembered the car dispatched to the East, contained exhibits from Southern Alberta as well as from Northern Alberta, and was exclusively in charge of delegates from the South. This year the car will be accompanied by farmer delegates from our own districts only, to wit, from Fort Saskatchewan, St. Albert and Edmonton, who in common have joined together to get up the best exhibit of native grasses, cereals, &c., it is possible to obtain.

The importance to the farmers and the place generally, of making the best display can hardly be over estimated. It is a well known fact that folks of the Eastern provinces are both ignorant and credulous of what we in Northern Alberta have got in the way of agricultural products, and can do in the way of market gardening. They believe we are too far north to raise good barley, oats, wheat and vegetables, and the only thing likely to open their eyes is ocular demonstration. It counts everytime more than talk. People will believe what they see with their own eyes—when they will sniff and ignore what is told them. Every Farmer living within the district—be he newcomer or old settler, ought to join hands and send in the best specimens of whatever he grows on his place. It is an issue that effects every one resident here, and all should alike do their utmost to make it a success. It is expected the car will start away the first week of September, and by doing this it will catch all the Eastern Fairs held in that month and October with the exception of the Toronto Fair, to which however a small exhibit of grasses and grain is now being prepared to ship before the 24th. The car of exhibits will be advertised as much as possible at each point along the line, and though at this date the exact route is not mapped out, it will go as far East as possible taking in the different county shows on its way.

Besides the ordinary agricultural products it is the intention of the committee in charge to send specimens of coal, native gold, petroleum, bricks and other things made and found in the vicinity of the Saskatchewan. The fact that we are alive here, and have a good country at the back of us cannot be too forcibly or too often brought to the notice of the inhabitants of Eastern provinces. They have been hearing a little about us lately, but by the look of things they are going to hear about us a great deal more. They can stand it though, and we cannot rub Northern Alberta into them to much. The period when we were content to sit down and wait for others to find us out is past—we have arrived at the stage when in the interest of all a hustle is necessary. In no way can Northern Alberta be advertised more effectively than by shipping specimens of what we produce, to where they will be best seen and talked about it.

Now is the time for everyone having an interest in the country to lend a hand.

INTOLERANT PRICES.

There are one or two things along the line of the C. P. R.—things that an emigrant or a visitor encounters coming into the country that strike him in anything but a favorable light, and are in fact abuses that need reform. Chief among these is the outrageous price charged for the most ordinary articles of food, and the monopoly these autocrats of the lunch counter enjoy.

Recently we made a trip from Montreal to Winnipeg and had opportunity to observe the modus operandi of the occupants of the tourist cars. In many instances the settler who is moving West with his family, supplies himself with a basket of necessities sufficient to last him through to the jumping off point, and he is to be congratulated on his good sense and good fortune. But not a few there are, in fact they represent the greater majority, who depend on getting food at the eating houses along the line, and they are indeed to be pitied for their unlikelihood, and to be congratulated if they get through to their journey's end, without suffering the excruciating torments of starvation.

Sandwiches at 10 cents each, tea ditto per cup. Have you ever stopped to consider how many such sandwiches, a man can eat at a meal, and how many cups of tea a thirsty man or woman or even child can drink. Half a dollars worth per head is nowhere—especially when you are four hours late or longer, and have your appetite whetted up to that pitch when it is not safe for anyone to sit along side of you. Of course when the trains are behind they stop the time they are scheduled to, so that the hungry may eat? Oh no! not a bit of it. Please do not labor under that mistake. If the train is not on time you are the loser, and given five—possibly ten minutes if the conductor himself is going to the lunch counter—to swallow a scalding hot cup of coffee and bolt a ham sandwich in, a sandwich which is invariably three-fourths fat, and which is to last you for 8 mortal hours or more. To be sure there are points along the line at which a dining car is put on, and with this attached, the man with money in his pocket can get his stomach full when eating time comes round, but the ordinary individual—the individual usually to be found in the colonists section, cannot afford to lay out 75 cents a meal, $2.25 a day, and is dependant on the counters for his grub.

Ten cents a sandwich. Ye Gods! that we should live to see pig so high—that the abomination of the Christian Jew should sell at such a price in the open market. Let's go into figures a little—arithmetic is needed to show off the situation. A full size pig—a plump well fed pig, in short an Alberta pig, will weight dressed in the neighborhood of say 300 lbs. Now take it all through allowing shrinkage &c, 1 lb of cooked ham will slice up into 12 sandwiches, and 12 x 300 gives the number of sandwiches one pig will make at 3600. Multiply this again by 10 and we have the value of that pig at $360 less of course the cost of bread and butter, not more than ten per cent. A tolerably fair price you'll admit. A man need not sell many porkers at that figure to set himself up for life. But this is not all, other things are high priced in proportion. For a small 2 pint pot of hot coffee the colonist must pay 25 cents, for a quart 50 cents. Such charges as these are impositions and should not be allowed by the C. P. R., who are losers by it in the long run to no small degree. Courteous and fair is the average official to be met with on the through cars—better in this respect than the average on the great roads in the United States,—but when it comes to the restaurants along the line the prices in the States are more moderate and the food supplied is better. Along the C. P. R., the owner of a lunch counter is a little God, and a God with a good deal of tongue about him at times. He is as independent as the ferryman is when you are on the wrong side of the river and want to get across. It is, "if you don't like my price, get out!" He is noted for two things—his slowness in serving you—and his slowness in handing you back your change. Decidedly the system of mealing in vogue on the Canadian Pacific Railway is an unpopular one, and on all sides we hear complaints about it.

THE BURDEN OF POSITION.

We are about to make a statement, an editorial statement, straight from our own editorial head. We do not speak Iroquois, we cannot read Cree, we are unable to converse in Sioux, we do not know the name of every root and tree that grows within this small domain of ours, and while we are slightly, very slightly acquainted with the dead languages, we much prefer doing our correspondence and talking in the Queen's English. We emphatically declare we are not acquainted with every person who has come to this country from Holland, that we neither talk Dutch, or Italian, and that we are not of Danish descent. We have a faint recollection of having once learnt to swear in Chinese, and of being taught the calendar in Hindostani; of being lulled to sleep by the song of a Singalese, and of listening to the praying of a Cossack mob in the Church of St. Ivan, at Soroki on the Dniester, but hope on that account none of our subscribers will expect us to be proficient in any of the above tongues. We supplement this statement by adding, while deploring our pitiful ignorance, that we are not acquainted with every word and phrase to be found in Webster's unabridged, nor are we an authority on hieroglyphics. That we are not familiar with the inside anatomy of fur bearing animals, and have had no personal experience in the art of raising turkeys by artificial propagation. We are sorry, very sorry that in agricultural and horse pursuits our education has likewise been neglected, in fact as we commence to go through the list the full extent of WHAT WE DON'T KNOW, begins to dawn upon us, and hereafter we hope we may not be referred to as a walking encyclopedia. This confession has been torn from us, by the questions put to our editorial self by a gentleman who entered the office just as we were going to press on the occasion of last issue. Phantoms have pursued us in our sleep since, distorted words in italics have glared down at us from the walls as we lay in our bed, seeking in vain for the slumber that would not come. Innumerable figures representing the races of the world have seemed to follow us where'er we moved, and a ghastly collection of bones and roots of trees have added to the nightmare by dancing before our desk at uncertain intervals. We admit our ignorance, and only ask to be left in peace.

THE PIONEER'S LAMENT.

(Written for the BULLETIN.)

Be I glad to see people a comin', and things on the go and the rise.
The land in the country a sellin', and lots away up to the skies?
No I ain't and be damned to ye manners, yer town and yer train and track.
I'd sooner t'was like when with Billy, I packed my things in on my back.

Its, "see that old fossil there yonder, asleep with his pipe at his side?
"He crossed over here in the sixties, but now he is ONLY A GUIDE.
"His face is all seared like a grizzlie's, they call him intemperate Mack."
To me as what found my way in here, and packed all my goods on my back.

Waren't I here when there wasn't a ferry, and Jasper street was but a trail.
When the Cree and the Blackfeet was warrin', and bullets was plenty as hail?
There's Tim and there's Tony I buried, shot down in a sudden attack.
The year as I came in with Billy, a packin'
my things on my back.

Be I glad is the question you ask me, to see the town going ahead.
Do I like the new people, the strangers, come wasn't that what you just said?
No! I don't—and yer got it straight mister, their built on a different tack.
To the ones what was here, when a singin', I yanked my goods in on my back.

It aint that I'm built over greedy, or thirsting for money or fame.
Or looking for drinks, though I tell yer, its scarce that the same have become.
Its having to take from a puppy, his oceans of talk and of slack.
When we are the coons as what found this,
and came with our goods on our back.

A curse to yer arts and yer fancies, yer fangled ideas and yer gall.
If t'was't for we few old timers, yer wouldn't have been here at all.
Yer haven't no use for the "ancient," yer blastedly poor on the whack.
No! I wish it t'was like when with Billy, I came with my things on my back.

ALBERTA TO THE FORE.

The Winnipeg Free Press in the issue of August 16th, contains an account of an interview with Mr. Andrew Oler and Mr.
James Taylor, both practical farmers, who were sent out by the Dundee Daily Courier and Dundee Weekly News respectively, to study the conditions of agriculture in Canada and the United States. It will be gratifying to the people of Edmonton to know, that in all their tour through America, Manitoba and the Northwest, these gentlemen saw no section of the country so favorable to farming as the valley of the Saskatchewan. After speaking of British Columbia, and the prosperous condition of the country generally, they go on to say, to quote their own words:

"At Indian Head and Brandon we saw large areas of excellent wheat; in fact, judging from appearance, no better could be desired. We do not, however, approve of the system of farmers putting all their eggs into one basket; and would rather recommend a mode of mixed farming, such as we saw at Edmonton. The valley of the Saskatchewan seems to us to be specially fitted for such a system, the grass of the prairie being rich and succulent, and the native grasses suitable for hay being abundant everywhere; and wherever the land is broken it seems to be pre-eminently adapted to the growing of wheat, barley and oats. In fact, we saw no district in the whole Northwest that we were more favorably impressed with than the valley of the Saskatchewan."

This only bears out what other farmers who have visited the Edmonton district say.
There is no doubt about it the country round us cannot be beaten for general farming purposes—there is no finer soil or climate than our own, though you hunt the world over.
It only requires to be advertised, seen and tried to be appreciated.

FORT SASKATCHEWAN, ALBERTA.

Quite a gathering of the representative farmers of the district, met at the office of F.
Fraser Tims, on Tuesday afternoon last, in an answer to advertisement in the "BULLETIN" for the purpose of electing officers, of the newly formed Fort Saskatchewan Agricultural Society. The following were chosen:

James Porter—President.
Wm. Walker—1st Vice President.
Amable Lamoureux—2nd Vice President.
Jno. F. Forbes—Auditor.

Henry Lambert.

Chas. Carson.

Directors

At the commencement of the meeting, the 1st Vice President, Mr. Wm. Walker, said it was necessary for the good of the Society to have the Secretary, and Treasurer residing in the Village, and moved that T. Fraser Tims should fill both offices, which was carried unanimously.

Collectors were chosen to get new members, so as to work up a strong Society, and no doubt their efforts will be successful, as our settlement is large.

We understand it is the intention of the Fort Saskatchewan Agricultural Society, to operate with the Edmonton, and St. Albert Society's, in gathering samples of grain grasses, &c., to send East with a special car, and no doubt Northern Alberta will hold its own, against all comers. Would it not be a good idea to also send some blocks of coal, samples of the petroleum, and good samples of the gold washed from the Saskatchewan river, with this car, so that at least a few of our mineral resources might become known.

Also some specimens of the bricks, made at Edmonton, as builders inform your correspondent, they are extra good. Barley, wheat and oats, are now being harvested in our vicinity, and promise large yields.
18th, 1893.

THE CANADIAN MAGAZINE.

The Canadian Magazine for August is at hand, and we are asked to give a notice of it.
To comment favorably on an issue that contains such outrageously drawn illustrations as are found in the story entitled, "The Backsliding of Elder Pletus," would be like aiding in a national disgrace, to pander to an abuse of public confidence. For seeing the Magazine, bears the proud name of,
"The Canadian Magazine," is sent abroad as such, is supposed to represent Canadian Art, Canadian literature and Canadian advancement, and in that light is criticised, nothing short of an abuse is it. Throughout the number the subject of the text is feebly poor—looking life, and containing very little that is characteristic of Canada about it; while the cuts we have reference to, are nothing more than miserable dubs with absolutely no artistic merit about them.
The one entitled "at a meeting in Shakerdown" is worse than a whole chamber full of horrors, and is sufficient in itself to give a person with a weak mind the nightmare.
How an editor can permit such drawings to appear, we are at a loss to understand.
Better ones we have seen in the office boy's penny dreadful, but never worse. It is a reflection on the good taste of the people—and does not nearly come up to the average illustrated American daily. To expect the public to support so poorly edited a journal is to credit them with having more money than sense. It must either alter, or join those who have gone before it. Surely Canada with her mighty domain of more than 3,000,- 000 of square miles deserves to be better represented in the Magazine line. It cannot be because she is lacking in subjects of interests, her area is broad enough, her past sufficiently fertile with reminiscences and her future dazzling enough to afford themes for many a year to come. Canada like every other country has a lore, and a history of her own, that only want to be properly tapped to yield an inexhaustible supply of absorbing reading. In common with California and Australia, she has that about her —distinctive from anybody else—a country in which all phases of life are yet to be seen. At present we regret to say she is not represented at all, and infinitely behind the rest of the world in illustrated periodicals.

An exchange says an attempt was made a few days ago to shoot Dr. McEachran at the Waldron ranch, near Macleod. An unknown person fired from the outside, the bullet passing through the room where the ladies, Adela Cochrane and Gwendoline Rouse were sleeping, and imbedded itself in the wall of the Doctor's room adjoining.
The high-handed proceeding of McEachran during past years are supposed to be the cause. No clue has yet been obtained to the perpetrators of the deed.

A despatch from Victoria, B. C. received at Winnipeg says that local seakers, while regarding the decision of the Behring "tribunal" as favorable to securing compensation for losses caused by the American seizures, add that the regulations will be disastrous in stopping sealing at the coast when the catch is principally taken.

N. Bawf a prominent member of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange who has been on a trip through the grain fields of Manitoba reports the yield of crops excellent, and that the acreage of wheat is at least 150,000 acres greater than last year. The supply of good hay is practically unlimited.

Major Lake of the intelligence war department has been appointed quartermaster-governor of the Canadian Militia. The appointment is not a popular one.

Another horrible tragedy has occurred at Cando, U. S. resulting in a murder and a suicide.

The Senate Hotel Chicago has been burned down and four lives lost.

THE EDMONTON BULLETIN,

(SEMI-WEEKLY)

Telegraphic News,
General News,
Local News,
All the News.
104 PAPERS
—IN A YEAR FOR—
$2.00.

News of Edmonton and surroundings up to hour of issue.

News of the world by telegraph up to day of issue and from two to five days ahead of any other paper reaching Edmonton.

Controlled only by the proprietor and therefore always ready and willing to speak out for the good of the town and district.

THE BULLETIN is read more generally throughout the Edmonton district than any other paper.

If you want to do business in the Edmonton district you can reach more of the people with a less expenditure of money through the advertising columns of the BULLETIN than by any other means.

Fair advertising rates charged, and like rates to all parties.

No advertising of a questionable nature admitted if its character is known.

THE BULLETIN Printing office is second to none in the Territories. Only first-class type, machinery and paper employed. Printing of all kinds done promptly, neatly and cheaply. Call and see samples of work, and get prices before ordering your printing elsewhere.

A newspaper is not a producing industry, but if properly conducted it assists and stimulates production and progress more than any other single agency of like cost.
Money spent towards the support of a newspaper is almost entirely spent within the town in which the paper is published and is therefore not lost to the business of the town.

The local newspaper represents the district in which it is published to the outside world.

Support your home paper liberally if it deserves support, so that it can give the best possible impression of your town and district as a field for immigration and investment.

There is big money for a new town in having a live and interesting paper.

A NOVEL LUNCHEON.

On Saturday last a dinner was given at the Alberta Hotel in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bremner's return from their wedding tour, at which the usual order of things was reversed, the chair and vice-presidents' chair being taken by ladies who proposed the toasts and did the responding. The affair was a pleasant success, the ladies acquitting themselves in their new role admirably.

LEDUC.

Aug. 17th

W. B. Heath is busy making.
Chris. Kern and Hendrick Krugen are building a summer residence out of town.

R. J. Gilford is putting the finishing touches to his hotel, and unable to give statistics of his vegetable just now.

Konard Ulrich cut his barley to-day and expects a yield of over 50 bushels per acre. He is chary about speaking of his potatoes lest he should be ranked with the great majority.

E. Casault dug a hill of potatoes in the garden yesterday that took away his breath but he did not count them in case the public might also doubt him. John Ring however is not afraid of in impairing his reputation, by asserting that he found a hill in which if the potatoes were old enough they would fill a pail.

EDMONTON AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

A meeting of the Directors of the Edmonton Agricultural Society was held on Thursday the 17th inst. for the purpose of discussing the sending of an exhibition car of the products of Northern Alberta to the eastern provinces.

Present M. McCauley President.
John Cameron.
John Eccles.
Murdoch McLeod.
Geo. Long.

Messrs Wm. Walker and James Porte representing the Fort Saskatchewan Agricultural Society, and Wm. Maloney representing St. Albert Agricultural Society.

A letter was read from L. A. Hamilton offering a car and free passes to delegates accompanying same.

It was decided that the Edmonton, Fort Saskatchewan and St. Albert Societies cooperate in the matter, and the following committees were appointed to look after collections of the various products of their respective districts.

Geo. Long, Sturgeon River.
Wm. Maloney, St. Albert.
John Eccles, Stony Plain.
Murdoch McLeod, Belmont.
Robt. McKernan, South Edmonton.
Wm. Stephens, South Edmonton.

F. Daly, Clover Bar.
P. Ollerwell, W. Carleton Place.
James Rye, Poplar Lake.
Wm. Walker, Fort Saskatchewan.
Jas. Atkinson, Fort Saskatchewan.
Jas. Porte.

M. McCauley, was appointed to make a collection of grasses.

M. McCauley and Campbell Young were appointed to look after exhibits, and also to have the arranging of same in car.

Messrs Oliver and Prince M. L. A. were asked for a grant in furtherance of the above scheme also the Edmonton Town Council. It may be mentioned in conclusion with the above that the various committees have met with most encouraging promises of assistance from all quarters and no effort is being spared to bring the affair to a successful issue.

Anyone having samples of grain in straw, grasses or other agricultural products may leave same at M. McCauley's stables or if they notify the secretary C. Young, the samples will be called for. It is to be hoped the Agricultural Societies of the district will receive all the assistance possible from every one as the matter is one of great importance to this section of the country and cannot fail in being productive of many good results.
